Make School Bus Safety a Priority

With the start of the school year on Aug. 27, now is a good time to review driving regulations involving school buses. Drivers are required to stop when passengers are getting on or off school buses on U.S. forces-controlled property, regardless of whether they are following or approaching the school bus. Motorists failing to stop will be cited and assessed traffic points by the military police. The start of the school year means renewed congestion at the top of Illinois Strasse (Power Zone end) in the mornings, as students are dropped off, and afternoons, as students are picked up. Motorists are encouraged to use alternate routes during these busy times.

SECTION II ANNOUNCEMENTS

Use Caution at RR Crossings

Recently two American citizens were killed in collisions with trains on railway crossings in Germany. The German Railway Corporation reminds all members of the community to use extreme caution when encountering a railway crossing.

The German railway crossings have a cross buck, X-shaped sign, sometimes accompanied by a light, steady or blinking, and/or gate. No light signal means there is not a train approaching. A yellow light signal means there is a train approaching, stop prior to the tracks or immediately vacate the tracks if in the process of crossing. A red constant or blinking light means stop immediately. In some U.S. states railway crossings have installations with blinking lights regardless of whether there is a train approaching or not. This is not the case in Germany, blinking lights always mean stop.
